ANNOUNCEMENT

Subject: WAN HAI BUNKER SURCHARGE (WBS)

Dear Distinguished Customers,

WAN HAI LINES (VIETNAM) LTD. would like to express our sincere thanks for your valuable support so far

On 1st January 2020, the International Maritime Organization (IMO) will implement a new global sulphur cap for marine fuel oil in order to reduce Sulphur Oxides (SOx) emissions from ships. According to this new IMO 2020 Sulphur regulation, the sulphur content of marine fuel oil will have to be capped within 0.5% against current limit of 3.5%.

In preparation for the compliance with this new regulation, Wan Hai Lines will be obliged to take in 0.5% low Sulphur fuel from the beginning of fourth quarter 2019 due to both safety operation and technical adjustment concerns from existing machineries on board the ship. As a consequence, there is a need for Wan Hai Lines to introduce a revised bunker SURCHARGE to reflect the additional low Sulphur bunker cost with effect from 1st November 2019.
